Pathways to Potential (P2P) Eligibility FAQ

UWGA's 13-County Region

What counties are included in UWGA's 13-county region?

Butts, Cherokee, Clayton, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Douglas, Fayette, Fulton, Gwinnett, Henry, Paulding, and Rockdale counties.

Does my organization need to be located within UWGA's 13-county region?

No. However, the program, services, or activities seeking funding must serve individuals within UWGA's 13-county region?

Our organization serves multiple counties, including some outside UWGA's 13-county region. Can we still apply?

Yes. Organizations may apply if the proposed program serves youth within UWGA's 13-county region and meets all other eligibility requirements.

Population Served

What does "primarily serve youth" mean?

Youth should make up the majority of participants served through the proposed program, service, or activity.

Does my organization need to exclusively serve a specific youth population?

No. Organizations do not need to exclusively serve one youth population to be eligible. The funding opportunity is intended to support programs serving youth, particularly youth facing significant barriers to opportunity, including youth experiencing homelessness, youth involved in the justice system, youth with foster care experience, and other young people facing significant challenges to educational and employment success.

Focus Area

What are the grant focus areas?

The primary focus areas for this funding opportunity are Education and Employment. Organizations may also apply for programs that address Mental Well-Being or Basic Needs if they can demonstrate how those services support education and/or employment outcomes for youth.

Can organizations focused on Mental Well-Being or Basic Needs apply?

Yes. However, Mental Well-Being and Basic Needs programs must demonstrate a clear connection to education and/or employment outcomes for youth. Organizations should be able to explain how their services help young people access, persist in, or succeed in education and/or employment.

Our program addresses multiple focus areas. How should we identify our primary and secondary focus areas?

Your primary focus area should reflect the main purpose of the program, services, or activities for which funding is being requested.

Your secondary focus area should reflect additional services or supports provided through the program.

Funding Request

How much funding can an organization request?

Organizations may request between $25,000 and $100,000.

Program Budget

What costs should be included in the program budget?

Include all expenses needed to operate the program, such as contracted services, equipment, transportation, program supplies, personnel, and other direct program expenses.

What does “funding already secured” mean?

Funding already secured refers to financial support that has already been awarded, committed, or contractually obligated for the program or services.

What if the program is new and no funding has been secured yet?

Enter $0.
